The Yale University Department of History invites applications for a Cassius Marcellus Clay Postdoctoral Associate in Public Humanities. The successful candidate may specialize in any subfield within History but will have experience/credentials in one or more of the following areas: Digital Humanities, Documentary Studies, Public History, Public Writing, Museums/Collections, or Space & Place. The fellow will be affiliated with the Public Humanities program and is expected to participate in their activities and to teach one course during the two years of the fellowship. Compensation is commensurate with education and experience and will include Yale's benefits package and a research budget. Start date August 1, 2022. PhD requirements must be completed by the beginning of the appointment and the PhD must have been awarded after spring 2019. Yale University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer. Yale values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty and strongly welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and underrepresented minorities. A cover letter (including a statement of qualifications and research interests), a CV, a chapter-length writing sample, a one-page proposal for a course, including illustrative readings, and three letters of reference should be submitted to <http://apply.interfolio.com/99731>. Review of applications will begin March 4, 2022. Please contact Ms. Denise Scott, Senior Administrative Assistant at denise.scott@yale.edu with questions.
